Producer-Only Farmers Markets

Bath Farmers Market, Bethlehem Farmers Market, Easton Farmers Market, Nazareth Farmers Market, Northampton Borough Farmers Market, The Farm Market @ NCC, Saucon Valley Farmers Market

What is a producer-only farmers market?

A producer-only farmers market is a public and recurring assembly of farmers or their representatives selling the food that they produced directly to consumers. Farmers markets facilitate personal connections and bonds of mutual benefits between farmers, shoppers, and communities. By cutting out middlemen, farmers receive more of our food dollars and shoppers receive the freshest and most flavorful food in their area and local economies prosper.

Who is shopping at the markets?

Half of market shoppers are in their 50s or older.

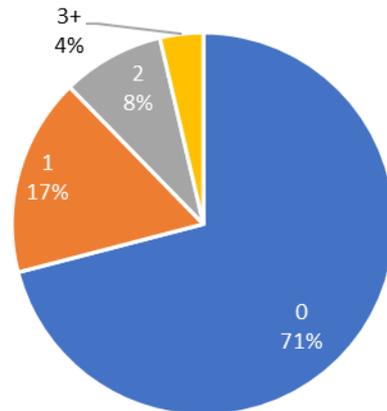

Respondents were primarily female (68% to 32%) – even when a male and female were shopping together, the male often deferred answers to the female, suggesting that women are more likely to be making decisions about food purchasing and shopping behaviors at the markets.

The majority of market shoppers live in one- or two-person households. Only about a third of market shoppers have children younger than 18 living at home.

Primary Reason for Attending

Nearly 60% of market shoppers came for the fresh, local produce!

Just over another quarter said their PRIMARY reason for coming to the market was the atmosphere.

Prepared foods were most important to shoppers at markets operating over the lunch hour, but were low in priority for markets operating over the dinner hour, despite take-away options being available in addition to other prepared foods, like baked goods
